FOLLOWING JESUS IN BOSSIER: A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

*Rev. Donnie Wilkinson,
Senior Pastor*

Staying In The Room

If you pay even a little attention to the news or to social media, you can feel it.

The temperature in our country is rising.

Conversations feel sharper.
People assume more and ask less.
And the distance between us often feels wider than it used to.

Most of us do not experience this as abstract debate. We feel it at family tables. In group texts. In comment sections. In conversations with people we love and respect. Many of us are quietly asking the same question.

What does faithfulness to Jesus look like in a tense and divided time?

I have been spending time with a framework called Three Practices for Crossing the Difference Divide. What I appreciate most is what it does not try to do. It does not give talking points. It does not tell you what to think. Instead, it offers practices. Simple. Demanding. Formational.

The authors name three practices. I want to share them with you exactly as they do.

Practice 1: "I'll be unusually interested in others."

This is more than being polite. It is choosing curiosity over quick conclusions. It is listening long enough to understand another person's experience rather than preparing your response. This practice slows us down. It echoes the way Jesus so often engaged people. He asked questions. He noticed. He paid attention before he spoke.

Practice 2: "I'll stay in the room with difference."

Staying in the room does not mean agreeing. It does not mean avoiding boundaries. It means resisting the impulse to withdraw, dismiss, or write someone off when conversations become uncomfortable. Jesus stayed present with people who misunderstood him, challenged him, and opposed him. Love often looks like remaining when leaving would be easier.

Practice 3: “I’ll stop comparing my best with your worst.”
This practice names a habit that quietly poisons relationships. We tend to judge ourselves by our intentions and others by their extremes. We give ourselves context and grace while flattening others into caricatures. This practice calls us to humility. To remember that every person is more complex than their loudest moment.

Here is why I want us to pay attention to these practices as a church.

Our everyday conversations are part of our mission.

If we are serious about renewing the life of our community and becoming fully alive in Christ, then how we speak and how we listen matters. This is not extra credit discipleship. This is faith lived in ordinary places with real people.

When we are unusually interested in others.
When we stay in the room with difference.
When we stop comparing our best with someone else’s worst.

Something changes. The temperature lowers. Trust becomes possible. And Christ is made visible in ways arguments never accomplish.

So this month, I invite you to pay attention to your conversations. In person. Online. With people who think like you and with people who do not.

Be unusually interested.
Stay in the room.
Practice humility.

You may not change someone’s mind. But you may change the climate of a relationship. And in God’s economy, that kind of faithfulness is never wasted.

Grace and peace,
Donnie

THE SILENT WITNESS

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT OUR STAFF AT OFFICE@FUMCBOSSIER.ORG

For the six Sundays of Lent, the Worship team will present a series of “silent witnesses” – inanimate objects which were used in the last week of Jesus’ life to humiliate and kill Him, but which can possibly give us new insight into our own behavior and God’s redeeming love for humankind.

Let us listen with spirit ears to what they can tell us today. The Palm Branches watched early in Passion Week, knowing the double-mindedness and fickleness of the crowd that waved them. The Cup was at the last supper and felt the trembling lips of the disciples, knowing their frailty and weakness. The 30 Pieces of Silver knew that money would not get Judas what he wanted and that fanatics do not deal fairly. The Whip had no say in the brutal whipping, but it recognized these precious welts and knew that by His stripes are we healed. The Crown of Thorns could not control its being placed on the sacred head, but it knew this Jesus was truly the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. As the Nails were driven in, they were awash with the innocent blood of the Lamb. The Cross stood silent as the Lamb was fixed upon it, a willing sacrifice for the redemption and reconciliation of all creation. The Stone alone witnessed the resurrection and rolled aside for all to see He is Risen! He is Risen Indeed!!

Each of the scenarios depict fallen humankind and gives us pause to ponder the forces behind them, forces bent on evil. But here is the good news of the Gospel, “in all things God works for the good of those who love Him.” What man meant for evil so long ago, God used for good! Let us not be silent, but witness to His goodness and shout to the world HE LIVES.

February is here with so many events for this second month of the year. It’s the shortest month with 28 or 29 days. The odds are about 1 in 1,461 making Leap year babies (leaplings) a rare occasion. The month is filled with lots of history, national holidays and cultural festivities. February is the only month that can pass without a single moon. This phenomenon will next occur in 2037. It’s a month of many celebrations – cultural festivals to national holidays. Planet Pluto was discovered February 18, 1930, but later reclassified as a dwarf planet.

Heart is a word heard a lot during this month as emphasis is placed on having a healthy Heart – the hollow muscular organ that sends the blood around your body. It can also be defined as the central or innermost part of something – the central part. As I travel around the church, Church Mouse gets to see a lot of people at FUMC- Bossier who have a Heart filled with God’s love.

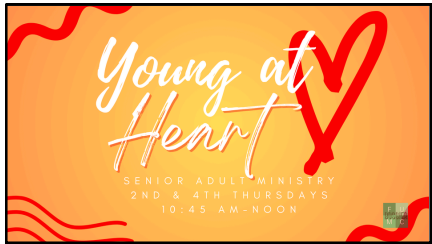

- HEART Idioms to ponder:
- Change of Heart (attitude change)
  - Heart of gold (very kind person)
  - Find it in your Heart to do something (able or willing to do something)
  - From the bottom of your Heart (in a sincere way)
  - By Heart (using only your memory )
  - Heart and Soul (a lot of energy and enthusiasm)
  - Give somebody Heart (make feel positive)

Happy Valentine’s Day,
Church Mouse

FAITHFUL FAVORITES

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT OUR STAFF AT OFFICE@FUMCBOSSIER.ORG

Each month, we highlight a podcast, book, song, or other resource to encourage reflection, growth, and connection in your faith journey. Whether it's music that uplifts, a book that inspires, or a podcast that sparks conversation, our monthly pick is chosen to nourish your spirit and spark meaningful moments in your life.

For February, Shannon Kelley chose the book Hope When Your Heart is Breaking by Ron Hutchcraft.

We have all experienced some sort of loss in our lives. Loss of a loved one or spouse, job loss, financial loss, divorce, broken dreams and health challenges. This book emphasizes the power of our choices, and how those choices can destroy us by causing us to become bitter and hard, or build us up to find peace and joy. The author gives personal and real life examples of loss but shines the light of hope. He focuses on how our choices can lead to healing or to more hurting. Throughout this book, the author supports his points with Scripture and focuses the reader on deepening a relationship with Jesus, a Secure Anchor who can be trusted. I found this book very helpful in my own life and plan to share it with friends going through some of life's challenges.

Cupid Popcorn for Valentine's Day

Cupid Popcorn is a fun and delicious treat idea. Make it with your kids to enjoy as a family or bag it up to give as valentine gifts to friends, neighbors or school classmates.

Ingredients

- 1 3.2 oz bag of microwave popcorn
- 1/2 cup white chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup conversation hearts
- 1/4 cup Valentine's M&Ms
- Pink food coloring for candy

Instructions

- Pop the popcorn in the microwave and remove any unpopped kernels by making a very small opening in the top of the bag, holding it upside down, and shaking until the unpopped kernels fall out.
- Add popcorn to a bowl and melt chocolate in a microwave-safe container for 60 seconds, stirring after 30 seconds, and then stirring after 10 seconds until completely melted. Be careful not to overheat and seize the chocolate.
- Add food color to the white chocolate until it reaches your desired shade of pink and pour over the popcorn while it's still warm. Gently fold the chocolate into the popcorn until it's evenly coated, being careful not to break popcorn.
- Spread popcorn in an even layer on a piece of parchment paper, sprinkle with conversation hearts and M&Ms and allow to set for at least one hour.
- Separate if necessary and store in an airtight container or bag it up and give it to friends and neighbors!

2025 Financial Review: Clarity, Faithfulness, and Forward Momentum

As we reflect on 2025, we are grateful for the faithfulness of God and the generosity of the people of First United Methodist Church of Bossier City. This past year required careful stewardship, honest assessment, and steady leadership. And because of your generosity, the church ends the year grounded and hopeful.

Like many congregations, we navigated real financial challenges. Some operating expenses exceeded projections, and leadership worked diligently to manage resources with prudence and restraint. We believe transparency is essential to trust, and we want you to know that these realities were faced thoughtfully and faithfully.

At the same time, there are encouraging signs of momentum. Total income for the year slightly exceeded budget, and while annual statements summarize totals rather than month-by-month patterns, leadership observed stronger and more consistent giving in the second half of 2025. The direction of the story matters—and the direction is positive.

As we look ahead, that momentum becomes even clearer.

For 2026, 98 households have pledged $567,998, compared with 92 pledges totaling $448,466 in 2025. That represents 6 additional pledging households and a 26.7% increase in pledged giving. These commitments reflect growing confidence in the mission and ministry God is shaping among us.

As we closed the year, the church remained financially stable. Importantly, we carefully distinguish between general operating funds, which support the ongoing ministry of the church, and designated funds, which are reserved for specific purposes and used only as donors intend. This clarity ensures that every gift is honored with integrity.

Thank you for your faithfulness, generosity, and trust. Because of you, First UMC enters 2026 prepared to continue renewing the life of our community...together.
